Jacksonville Safety Alliance Forms Partnership with Florida State College at Jacksonville

MIAMI, FL (September 16, 2018) – The Jacksonville Safety Alliance is honored to announce a new partnership with Florida State College at Jacksonville. Jeffrey Raymer, President of the Jacksonville Safety Alliance and Janet Jefferson Hastings, Program Coordinator, Environmental Workforce Development & Job Training Grant, Florida State College at Jacksonville worked together to form this dynamic partnership. Starting October 9, 2018, monthly Safety Alliance meetings will be held at Florida State College at Jacksonville, Advanced Technology Center, Room T111, 401 West State Street, Jacksonville, FL 32202 from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Safety Alliance meetings are free to attend and open to the public. These meetings offer an outstanding opportunity for participants to learn about new and innovative environmental, health and safety products and services and also share their ideas and network with others to improve workplace safety. Working closely with the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) and our educational partners, we are able to rapidly identify safety and health trends and develop safety training and educational courses to address these concerns. Through innovative partnerships with several international companies like, Sunbelt Rentals, Caterpillar, Wernerco and Dewalt, we can leverage their knowledge and expertise to provide our members with exceptional resources for improving safety.

About FSCJ

Known as “the community’s college,” Florida State College at Jacksonville (FSCJ) exists to provide valuable, high quality learning opportunities to anyone with the desire to enhance themselves through the pursuit of higher education. Serving more than 50,000 students and awarding more than 7,800 degrees and certificates on an annual basis, the College plays a significant role in supplying the region's employers with a highly skilled, educated workforce.
